HOOSEGOW NO PLACE FOR A SILK SHIRT

So Hammend Man Asked Kind Cop to Park It for Him in Station

Zigmund Mackish, 548 Kenwood avenue. Hammond, thinks that a man who is pinched and hasn't enough money on him to give ball shouldn't wear a silk shirt. He feels that a silk shirt is out of place behind the bars of a police station

Saturday evening when Officers Singer, Einsele and Reckler pulled a little raid on Columbia avenue and arrested John Jokubiak, 555 Mess avenue, for selling liquor, Ziz butted in and interfered. He was brought along with John.

At the nolice station he found he had only a few dollars so there was nothing for him to do but stick around until his trial Monday morning. Before starting for the cell. Ziggy pulled off his shirt and asked the sergeant if he might park it in the office. "You know it's silk," said Ziggy, "and its too pretty to wear in the hoosegew."

This morning Zig, still shirtless, appeared in court and took a $6 fine while Jokubiak who had been bootlegging was assessed $120 and given a suspended jail sentence.
